The team as now made up will play together continuously in future. Their work in yesterday's game was very gratifying. The Princetons also made a showing that sould not be otherwise than pleasing to the sharp throughout, and frequently brilliant, and a deuble play in the fourth inning by Brooks. King. and Otto was a sensational effort. The outfielders had plenty of work, and they did it in a masterly manner. Woodcook and Brokaw made some remarkable catches. Forsyth, who is a line pitcher, remained in the box curing the entire game, and he held the seaguers down in good style. He pitched from the eld distance, while Crane. Rusis, and King, who pitched three innings each, delivered the ball from the sixty-loot plate. The Princetons hit the ball hard enough, but had difficulty in placing it safely. The assertion that if the Princetons are weak at any point it is in batting still holds good. It cannot be denied that in the matter of fielding the Tigers are one of the strongest amateur teams in the country. That they will give Yale a great shake-up there can be no doubt, and it is an open question whether they will not surprise Harvard. admirers of the team. Their field work was Open question whether they will not surprise Harvard.

Next to the sharp fielding and timely bitting of the New Yorks, the efforts of the Tigers to score were of interest. They nearly succeeded in the fifth, but were cut off by Connor's throw to the plate. Again in the sixth they got a man as far as third, where he was left.

Burke made two rattling catches of hard hits by King, while Fuller knocked down a line hit by King in the first inning that had home-run pretensions. Two singles and two passed balls gave New York two in the first, while Fuller's single and McMahon's triple yielded one in the second. Ward's base on balls, Lyone's double, and McMahon's single gave two in the sixth, while in the seventh singles by Davis and Fuller. Connor's base on balls, and Otto's muff yielded two more. The score:

The Brooklyns Start In Well. The Brooklyns opened the preliminary season at Eastern Park yesterday afternoon with the Columbia College team. While the game gave the players a chance to get their eyes on the ball and to reduce flesh by encircling the es, it did very little toward giving them an ides of what they may expect when the chamdonahip season opens. The Columbia boys fielded well enough when the ball came in their dom. The sphere was usually sent flying out of their reach. The way the Brooklyns hit the ball was enough to set the cranks crazy. The one hit.

The event of the day was the appearance in the field of Lovett clad in a Brooklyn uniform. The oranks could scarcely believe their eyes, but when Lovett took the ball in hand and relieved Stein they cheered lustily. Lovett came to Eastern Park in the morning and at once asked Mr. Byrne for a contract, which he signed, thus becoming, after a year's absence, a ruil-fiedged Brooklynite once again. Lovett pitched two innings and then gave way to Hadcock. The score:

What's the Matter with Harvard?

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., April 8. - After a Brely and exciting contest, in which both aides put forth their best efforts, Harvard and the University of Virginia played a tie game. ugh the pitchers were batted pretty breely, the hits were scattered. Good fielding. ther with fine support, kept the score down to one run on each side. A high wind interfered considerably with the playing. Sarvard put Highlands on the batting list with the hope of winning the game. Virginia was strong on the outfield, and the team work was creelent. Harvard was below the standard in the latter respect, the men playing individually as if they were uncertain of each other. The game was called at the end of the pinth uning, as Harvard had to catch a train. The core:

NO PLIMMER-M'BRIDE FIGHT. Mayor Maynes Said It Could Not Go On

The interest in the international boxing match for the 112-pound championship of the world, which was to have taken place to-morrow night between Billy Plimmer, the English crack lad, and Danny McBride of New York, at the new club house of the New Jersey Amuse-ment Company, in Newark, became a roar of excitement yesterday afternoon when the official appouncement was made that the affair had been declared postponed indefinitely. For a week there have been rumors that Mayor Haynes of Newark had determined to stop the business, but the managers and stockholders of the club were supposed to have sufficient influence to gain permission for the thing to go made. The Mayor declared that a "prize fight" should never take place in his town he would call out the militia, if necessary, to pany had confidence in their ultimate success in bringing off the bout, and as late as Friday night told their agents and friends that the show would go on without doubt.

Yesterday came chaos to the well-laid plans that have so often, before and since the time of Bobby Burns (not he of feather-weight fame and Providence, R. L. gang aft agies. Manager J. H. Conley of the Amusement Company called upon Arthur Lumley of the Ithus-

Manager J. H. Conley of the Amusement Company called upon Arthur Lumley of the Itustrated News, the New York representative of the organization, and told, in mournful numbers, that the jig was up.

"The match is off." said Brother Conley, as both of his eyelids fell, and an evidence of a leak appeared under each. Mr. Lumley was astounded, if not rattied; so much so that when one of the old guard of "complimentary scekers, who came in at the moment, asked for a ticket to the show, he was at once presented with six. The happy importuner went on his way rejoicing, and remained merry until he struck a tieser, on which there appeared a sad announcement to which his attention was called.

"How is this?" asked Lumley, with creased brow, as soon as the merry one departed.

"The Mayor is dead against us," replied Conley, "and we can do nothing. We have appealed to him with all the force of argument. His own sons tried this morning to convince him that a glove contest was harmless, though most interesting to the thousands who like the sport, and of the great difference between the prize fights of history and the public bouts of the present day. No reasoning would go with him, and we can only call it off. We could go ahead and give the show, but threats of arrest have been made, and the carrying out of these we intend to avoid.

"Our club is composed of citizens who stand high in the community, and we will not subject them to the obloquy of an arrest and the annoyances of the law's delays, notwithstanding that we believe that the end would see them all righted. On the point of final success we have the opinion of Samuel Kalisch, one of the most eminent lawyers in the State, who has advised us to go ahead, despite the opposition that has formed so suddenly within a week or so. But we'd rather not do that. We think we can find snother way out."

The reporter asked Mr. Conley what that other way was. He was not inclined to say much about it, but intimated that the club might put a couple of gloved bovers on the stage some ni in the courts.

In Newark, the feeling was at least warm among not only the men who are by common consent and their own admission called aports, but also in the many rowing and athletic club members, who abound so freely in that city.

that ciub members, who abound so freely in that city.

The boys, Plimmer and McBride, were both upset when they learned that their match had been declared off. Neither said much about the matter, but each expressed anxiety to meet the other "somewhere or somehow, and meet the other "somewhere or somehow, and as soon as possible." Lumley holds $500 of the Amusement Company's money as a guarantee, which he will divide between the boys. Among the disappointed are students from Princeton and Lafayette colleges, the former of whom had bought three boxes for the bout and the latter two.

GAMES OF THE OXFORD A. A. Schoolboys of New York and Brooklys Compete in the Open Events.

A number of excited school boys representing the in stitutions of this city and Brooklyn crowded into the Clermont Avenue Rink in Brooklyn yesterday after moon for the purpose of witnessing the second annual games of the Oxford Athletic Association, an organi-zation composed of Polytechnic Institute, Brooklyn Latin, and Harvard School boys. These schools and others, notably Cutler, Berkeley, Halsey, and Allen were represented.

There were three open events, all of which proved interesting. The final heat in the open fifty-yard dash had to be run over, as Fisher and Brooks of Harvard and Will Stuart of the Latin School crossed the line i a dead heat.

In the run-off Pisher, Stuart, and Brooks finished in the order named. It was an extremely exciting con-test. The 1,000-yard ron gave the onlookers another chance to get excited. Southwick of Harvard School won, with Blanche Atkinson of Harvard and F. L. Columbias found the bail to right of them and to left of them, and by and by they got tired of chasing after the aggravating object. Capt. Hutchias of the college team sent in the curves and drops well enough, but he couldn't sool the Brooklyns.

In the very first inning the first three men at the bat hit the bail each for two bases, and Daiy and litchardson got in singles. In the persent, the hits came so rapidly it was hard to keep track of them, but the boys never let up until they had scored ten runs. It all got tiresome after a while, but the 500 spectators attoed their ground, and saw out the eptic hairs innings.

The compensation for that tired feeling was the way the Brooklyns played. Their batting was only a part of it. The fielding is what taptivated the crowd. The boys tried for everything that came in their way, and were invariably successful in getting hold of the ball. Daly at third made a pretty pick-up right at the start, and Burns and lichardson each took in a hard fly apiece. Stein went in the box at first. He pitched in excellent form, and for four innings the Columbias only got on y lievard. In the battle between the talent and the ring at Guttenburg yesterday the bookmakers had a decided advantage, favorites going down with alarming rapidity. The track dried out quickly, and, before the close of the day, the going was good, and fast time was made in the handicap, which was won by Denny Higgins's smart colt Bel Demonio.

The race in question was the feature of the day's sport, and so prominently had Bel De-monio performed on his last appearance in public that he was installed favorite over his onqueror of a few days ago, the fleet Lord Harry, who was asked to concede the Canadian owned coit too much weight. MANY PRAIRIE FIRES. Towns in Nebruska that Were in Bauger Saved with Difficulty.

THE SUN, SUNDAY, APRIL 5, 188.7

OMAHA, April 8.—The gale which swept over Nebraska yesterday was accompanied by prairie fires which swept from thousands of fertile acres every vestige of vegetation. In Banner county, the village of Ashmoreis, is supposed to have been completely destroyed. Word was brought to Harrisburg last night by the driver of the stage that that town was di-rectly in the path of the fire at 4 o'clock, and that the entire population of the village was engaged in a battle to save their homes. The stage driver reported having seen several dwelling houses in flames and the settlers fleeing for their lives. He crossed the line of the fire and received a severe scorching. the fire and received a severe scorching. Meagre details received last night from Ogalalla, Harrisburg, Duning, Inverton, Kearney, Grand Island, Lexington, and Hastings give accounts of great losses to property.

A Burlington Railroad bridge at Duning and another at Hastings, on the Elkhorn, were destroyed. At Kearney the fire burned near enough to the town to destroy a brewery at its edge. The gale subsided by nightfall, but the fires have scarcely abated. The region burned over is the chief grazing section of the State, and the destruction of the grass means a great less to stockmen.

over is the chief grazing section of the State, and the destruction of the grass means a great loss to stockmen.

Shour Falls, S. D., April R.—While a gale of wind was blowing from the west yesterday afternoon the prairie west of the town caught fire, and the blaze swept rapidly toward the outskirts, burning several small buildings and a considerable amount of grain. It rushed through a large grove with flames thirty feet high, and was only ten minutes' distance from a street containing several handsome houses in the wealthy section of the town. The flames burned one of them and seorched the others.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., April R.—A prairie fire occurred south of Sutherland, in this county, yesterday. The loss will probably reach $100.000. The fire half devastated the Platte Valley. Everything for a distance of twenty-five miles long and three miles wide is in ruins. The fire started shortly before noon. It travelled at the rate of thirty miles an hour, and soon struck the city of North Platte. The fire companies responded to the alarm as soon as it was known the fire was raging west of the city, and when they reached the outskirts of the city, it was upon them. They fought it back, but almost everything beyond the water limits was licked up in a few minutes by the flames.

WHO OWNED THE GLEASON ENGINES The Russey Company Denies Emphatically that it Ever Did.

A suit was begun in the Brooklyn Supreme Court yesterday, at the instance of Mayor Sanford, to have a judgment against Long Island City of $2,200, with costs and interest, vacated. The judgment purported to be in favor of the Rumsey Company of Seneca Falls for the sale of a fire engine to Long Island City, and was obtained on Feb. 28, 1892, during Patrick J. Gleason's term of office as Mayor. The engine formerly belonged to Mr. Gleason and was housed in his car stables. When the paid Fire housed in his car stables. When the paid Fire Department was organized it was purchased by the city, the Rumsey Company being named in the transaction as the owner of the machine. There were no funds with which to pay for the engine, so an action was begun in the Brooklyn Supreme Court, apparently by the Rumsey Company, and judgment was obtained.

Yesterday Mayor Sanford received a communication from the Rumsey Company, in which the company denies absolutely that it had any knowledge whatever of the fire engine transaction. The letter said that all the knowledge the company had of the matter was on seeing a reference to the suit in a newspaper, and inter when they received notification of the suit. They did not know of the existence of such a fire engine, and never had anything to do with its saie. It is said the engine was more than thirty-five years old, and was worn out.

The matter is to be investigated by the Sanford administration, and it is intimated a number of criminal actions may result.

DEATH OF A CENTENARIAN. Aunt Neille" Bloomer Dies in the 1084

KINGSTON, April &-"Aunt Nellie" Bloomer died at the home of Mrs. Anna Bloomer, her daughter-in-law, in Ellenville on Wednesday afternoon. She was in her 103d rear, having been born in Fishkill-on-the-Hudson on Sept. 10, 1790. Her maiden name was Nellie Till man. She became the wife of John L. Bloomer of that village in November, 1820. In 1832 Mrs. Bloomer and her husband moved to Ellenville, this county, where he engaged in the foundry business. He died in 1854. Since that time Mrs. Bloomer spent eleven years with her son in Nicholson, Ia. The remainder of the time she has lived in Ellenville. She was the mother of six children, only one of them, liobert, now living in Ellenville and at whose house she died, surviving.

For soveral years past family reunions have been held on the anniversary of her birth, and were made notable events in her life. Her centennial, about two and a half years ago, was celebrated with much pomp, and hundreds of people came from the surrounding country to see and congratulate her. Until about a year ago she enjoyed remarkably good health and strength. She retained her mental faculties, and vividly recalled persons and scenes in the long life that reaches back to the days of George Washington. of that village in November, 1820. In 1832

How Gertrude Williams, a Negro Servas

Charles B. Reed, who lives at the Albany flats at Fifty-first street and Broadway, ap peared in the Tombs Police Court yesterday morning as complainant against Gertrude Williams, a negro girl who had been employed by him as a servant about a month ago. He accused her of stealing $1,000 worth of clothing, jewelry, and household articles, though the specific charge against her is of stealing a silver belt valued at $50. Soon after Gertrude came to the flat articles began to be missed contemplated reopening. Mr. Samuels has been an expert in gaseous seams for this company for twenty years. Let midnight last night, the Superintendent not having arrived home, the officials at the mine were notified. A searching party went into the shaft and found it on fire. Everything was done to learn his whereabouts in the mine, and at 10 o'clock this morning his charred remains were found. He had suffocated.

It is presumed that Samuels had ignited a pocket of gas with his lamp and that the timbers caught fire. He was an official of high standing and was well known throughout the mining districts. The fire in the shaft was subdued at noon to-day.

He has also signed these bills: He has also signed these bills:

Murderer Michael T. Sliney, the slayer of Bob Lyons, whose death sentence was commuted on Saturday last to imprisonment for life, was locked in his cell to-day, as he has, been acting in a strange manner. He would not put his mind upon his work in the shoe shop, and imagined that the other convicts were hooting at him all the time. He will probably be sent to the Matteawan asylum on Monday.

Col. Hayes, the perjurer, was put to work at making trousers in the ciothing shop to-day. He spent a good part of the afternoon sobbing as he worked.

came to the flat articles began to be missed from the rooms.

A pair of women's new silk stockings were given her to wash. Gertrude evidently thought it a pity to wash them so soon, for she wore them herself first before doing as she had been ordered. When the owner put the stockings on she found the feet stretched to an enormous size and a hole worn at the calf of the leg by the heel of a ponderous foot. Miss William's feet are very large, and suspicion was at once directed to her.

The police were called in, but before they discovered positive evidence against her Gertrunk with her. In it were found many of the missing articles, including the silver belt. The girl was arrested at 164 Hoyt street. Brooklyn. She was held in $1,000 hail for examination on Monday.

The Horse Market Gang Burned Out. The gang that hangs around the old horse market in East Seventy-fourth street is without a roost. The stable in which it was wont to assemble of nights, rush the growler, and smoke, was burned out shortly after midnisht yesterday morning. It was owned by Vincent Geissier, who lives among the rocks on the East River front, which have been famous for years as the haunts of horse sharpers. He wanted to keep the gang out of his stable, but he couldn't. He blames the gang for the $1.500 damage which the fire caused.
